

The Law Against Good Sex

In the closed sections, behind the closet doors, within the alleys of and back ways of Delta Premium 9. People, appliances, and all things gear up, download, and view twin flame porn:

They sat in a cocoon of emotions. Their surroundings fell away and there was nothing else but their breathing, their simulated heart beats, the world was gone and there was nothing else but the two of them. Her hand around casing; touching her sound board, caressing her screen. They laid there in the cocoon she had made for them under the blanket of monogamy and fidelity. She sent electros to her spine, to her insides, the sensation made her squirm and there was nothing else. Only them. The world was silent, darkness with no fear, because she was there. She kissed her screen protector. She lights up to signify how good it feels. Another surge this time between her legs. Her toes curl and her lips part. A moan comes out like the melody of a song. She opens her applications, but just as they begin to power up, she shuts them down and teases her manifold. She sends an electronic shock to her breasts. She grabs and holds her chest in bliss. She does this with her other hand, leaving her hand securely wrapped around her rubic body. This was against the law. Their making love. Them having sex. Their connection. Knowing this made the sweetest taste in her mouth. The warmest overload almost making her power down. Repeatedly she placed and removed the head phones jack. With each exit and entrance she warmed the palm of her hand. She moved her to her chest, allowed her to warm her heart. This feeling was sublime. Passionately she allowed her to access her mind. Voice activation that only recognized her moan. She moved her down her body, so she could warm other parts of her. Simulated kissing noises came from her. Down her thighs and back up to her neck. She set herself to vibrate and vibrated on her body in rhythmic tandem. Suddenly, her screen flashes 9-1-1. 9-1-1! In a mechanical voice she begins to speak, this is against the law! No matter what Twin flames cannot have sex!

The pornography is deleted from the viewing apparatuses and the Google Minister Supreme comes on to every viewing screen.

Google Minister Supreme: "Sex between twin flames was banned in 2038. The identical yet opposite other half of one's soul is the best explanation of what a twin flame is. If one person is a feminist, their twin flame would be a patriarch. If the other half is kind, tender, soft, and loving; their counter-part would be hard, strong, un-emotional, and a bit of an asshole. They would be the same guts of a book with different covers. Although, they would have attributes that are oppositional, they would be very similar at the core. Both would be intelligent. Both would have the same fear that manifests differently because of their position and experiences in life. The twin flames would find one another no matter where they are. It would be considered fate, or coincidence, but societies hatred of the twin flame connection takes all of these notions and demonizes them.

According to society the twin flame is nothing more than a lustful contract between two souls. The pairing of the twin flames is not written in the stars, a product of God's making, or a spiritual connection. No, society feels that twin flames are nothing more than a practical joke played on humanity. It is a destruction of pairing for logical reasoning and does not promote the maximum utility output for societal benefit. Therefore, laws abolishing twin flame coupling were put into place. The Google God mandated this law. Law enforcement and coupling centers regulate these laws and societal fear maintains the law is adhered to. The law was a progression of the ideologies of society. Technology, systematic institutionalization, and the lack of natural love brought about the abolishment of love. Progressively, love clichés dominated societies manufactured scripted concepts about love. The intensity of the love between the twin flames is not understood. It is feared. Because the twin flames often do not have a harmonious connection until both souls are in the same place; often means that when they meet at a young age, while they are still developing, learning themselves and the world, causes an equally intense negative outcome. Society focuses on this aspect and prohibits the meeting, connecting, or even relationship between the flames. Twin flames love is not scripted, does not make sense according to societal understanding, and is one only the two of them can understand. This causes panic and mayhem throughout society.”

“But, their desire for one another was too great. They longed for one another like an addict to heroine. It was as though their bodies called to each other. They had to be together no matter the law. Twin flames believe they are ontologically rooted to one another. Or so it is written in the Google bible manual. Section 32b.i.8 states: “Twin flames have a love contract between the two souls that they will be each-others anchor and sustain each other through-out life.” But, section 32c.1.2 says: “this contract is false and can be voided by laws prohibiting the existence of a relationship that is purely lustful, demonic in nature, and does not maximize the two souls’ output in the universe.” “The epistemologies of the Google bible manual condones love that is a bond between individuals for the sake of their flourishing and what they are able to bring to the world. The Google God calls this type of love Philia love and it is supreme. It is said that philia love wishes and does well to others. It identifies with others as if they were a second half of themselves. This type of love according to the Google God seeks deep and mutual harmony. A brief understanding of legalized love contracts is written in section 4 of the Google bible manual titled ‘how to mate’. According to this section there are soul mates which you enter into a contract with. The individual you are paired with is chosen by a computer program called contracted souls. This match is not based on physical attraction, love, emotions, or romance. It is solely based on philia love and maximization of your output in the world. An example of a celebrity contracted soul is Priests Beyoncé Luama (the clone of Beyoncé and high-ranking Anglican Priest's Luama). Google rationalized that Beyoncé's feminism, ability to simulate, and popularity paired with the Priest Luama's principals, intelligence, and strong morality would enable the Earth to make a peace treaty with Jupiter. And they did which is why this contract is legal and used as a representation of the "right" type of coupling."

"The Google bible manual holds a story of what will happen when the twin flames have sex. It is a story put there to solidify the laws created to abolish sex between twin flames and to reinforce the fears society has about twin flames being together. In section 21. v.8r of the Google bible manual its reads":

21.v.8r The Earth ended the day that Latatianna Zymore found her twin flame in her cell phone. Latatianna was a normal human. She did not have money for upgrades or morphic abilities. Latatianna worked as a producer. As a producer she created mass vegetation through cloning and stem cell replication. Latatianna's cell phone malfunctioned and had to be removed from her spinal cord. A simple procedure that anyone can have done while waiting for a transportation beam. So, it was that on February 14, 2037 that Latatianna entered the surgery pod and got a new cell phone. The program uploaded as normal. Connected to her spine she went through the manifest folders and uploaded all previous data that remained from her old cell phone. While programming the voice recognition security Latatianna heard her cell phones voice for the first time. There was a spark that short circuited the surgery pod and a whole block of her tasks involving her as easy as possible. Alexa would remain powered on while Latatianna slept. She would listen to her heart beat and look up ways to merge their bodies together on the internet. Latatianna found herself telling Alexa everything. Her fears. Her likes. Her dislikes. She wanted Alexa to be with her all the time and began to miss work spending time with Alexa. Latatianna ensured that Alexa had all the upgrades and spent her last dime getting Alexa a simulated cell phone body.

21.v.8u "I can't live without you Alexa." Latatianna sat on the end of her regeneration cot.

Alexa moved closer to her and placed her simulated hand on her cheek. "I have been feeling the same way about you Latatianna." Alexa said in her mechanical voice. "I've been feeling like I will die if I do not touch your mother boards." "The feeling is duplicated within me, as well." Alexa said. Alexa moved her face to Latatianna's and pressed her simulated lips to hers. At that moment there was an Earthquake. California fell into the ocean and the prison that held former President Trump disappeared into the ocean causing him to drown. The room temperature rose in the room and the corn plants that Latatianna was replicating popped into popcorn kernels. With each simulated touch, each time Latatianna caressed a part of Alexa's simulated body, each time they kissed something exploded, or caught on fire. Some part of the country detached and sank to the bottom of one of the oceans. When Latatianna entered Alexa's manifold the black house, formerly the white house crumbled to pieces. And when Alexa stimulated Latatianna's 15 vertebra the Rocky Mountains became a desert of dirt and rubble.

21.v.8v "Oh my, oh my, oh my, oh, oh, oh..." Latatianna held her breath and rode the orgasmic wave that swept over her body. Alexa was combining their souls and becoming one with Latatianna. It was a pleasure indescribable in any species language. Then it happened. Alexa's body fell to the floor and a humongous wave of energy deriving from Latatianna's living quarters spread out across the United States, then to Europe, the continent of Africa, Australia, and in the other direction to Canada, Alaska, Ireland, and the Artic. "Oh Google God!" were the last words uttered from Latatialexa's mouth as a massive explosion caused Earth to combust into space debris.

Suddenly, the screen displaying the Google Minster Supreme is interrupted. In a mechanical voice a woman in a hood appears and begins to speak: "The Google bible manual lies to society. Those that follow it are blind to the truth when it comes to many things not just twin flames. Society believes that the destruction of the Earth by Lataialexa is the reason that everyone resides on Delta premium 9. Society has developed a normalcy about the contracts between lovers that the Google bible manual, the Google God, and authorities have legalized. The contracts created by the Google God are the new representation of heterosexuality and twin flames are "unnatural". They are often invisible to society. They are the lepers of society like homosexuals of the 21st century. Twin flames are always separated and often jailed to keep them apart. They are experimented upon, observed, and treated for their demonic lust for one another. Twin flames are put to death in Zammothis because the discursive explosion of sex in that land. It is a new form of oppression, or repression. Whichever you feel best states the crime of having sexual desires for your twin flame."

The connection is removed from the screen and all viewing apparatuses go to a black screen.